

Portable X-Ray

Giving matters.

A portable X-Ray machine is used to obtain diagnostic images within the hospital when the patient is unable to be transported to the imaging center.

- Quality images displayed instantly at the bedside
- Allows doctors to make decisions quickly
- Used especially for trauma cases in the Emergency Department

Mercy Medical Center's Imaging Department performed over 10,000 portable X-Ray studies in 2020. Overall, the hospital performed 78,000 medical imaging studies across seven service lines.

As Mercy Medical Center continues to see a higher volume of more complex cases, the demands on the current portable X-Ray units continue to grow. Additional portable X-Ray units will help to continue to care for a great number of patients.

Mercy Medical Center
Merced Foundation
A Dignity Health Member

For more information please contact Mercy Foundation at 209.564.4201 or email us at mercyfoundationmerced@dignityhealth.org.